Our Story

VETKO is a dynamic Dutch company that manufactures and sells premium high quality veterinary pharmaceutical products and nutritionals at affordable prices. Vetko's products are sold to farmers all over the world to guarantee the health and welfare of the animals and farmers.

From our facilities located in Apeldoorn in the center of The Netherlands, we serve our customers worldwide in providing them with high quality veterinary medicines, feed additives and premixes which are manufactured according to the European GMP and GMP+ Guidelines.

To meet our client's expectations, we offer customized labeling and legitimate registration of every veterinary product, complying with national rules and regulations.

All Vetko products are manufactured in the EU and are subjected to various stringent quality check standards of the Dutch Authority by our quality department to ensure they are safe and effective before they are released by our qualified person (QP) to the market.

Our registration department is working closely with our distributors to provide them with all the required technical and quality dossiers to register our products in their countries.

We believe in commitment towards our partners worldwide and strive on building sustainable, trustable, and long-term alliances with our Distributors.

Vision

Quality veterinary medicines, feed additives and premixes at an affordable price for every animal and in every farm.

Mission

To provide farmers all over the globe with premium Dutch quality pharmaceutical products and Nutritionals at an affordable price.

Our Team

We comprise a team of experts and professionals who have vast experience in this domain. Our professionals are highly qualified and have in depth knowledge in their respective fields. Working in close coordination, our professionals aim to provide our clients with superior quality veterinary products and nutritionals and reliable, efficient customer services.

Background

After many years as veterinarians and commercial managers in the business of the veterinary pharmaceuticals and feed supplements, we realized that the markets in many countries nowadays are crowded with products with low prices and low-quality veterinary medicines as well as expensive and high-quality veterinary medicines and nutritionals. With the economic difficulties in most of the countries, animal owners starting to use the low-quality medicines which reflects negatively to the animal health and welfare and leads to the rise of drug resistance.

We decided to adopt the vision of "Quality veterinary medicines, feed additives and premixes at an affordable price for every animal and in every farm".

Customer Service

Our aim is to provide optimum customer service to our partners worldwide. We do this by speaking to our customers directly, via e-mail, telephone, WhatsApp, or any other modern means of communication. Short lines and clear communication are essential in today's world.

By customer service we also mean the smooth and efficient handling of requests, short delivery times of our products and efficient transport of shipments of our products to our customers with the right documentation so that a fast and efficient customs clearance is possible.

We do not have a 9 to 5 mentality and we are always available to our customers and end users of our solutions. Customer focus is therefore one of Vetko's core values. We will always strive to find a solution for our customers together with our team of dedicated specialists.

Quality

The primary objective of Vetko is to ensure the quality and efficacy of its products for the farmer and animal safety and welfare, while improving the overall level of the quality and the performance of the farmers business. The management system of VETKO is based on “Quality is beyond the horizon of any negotiation”.

We maintain our high-quality standard by continuously research and developing new products, investment in infrastructure development, highest level of laboratory certification and high customer service standards.

Vetko has stablished, implemented and maintains a quality system that allows the delivery of products with quality attributes appropriate to meet the needs of the animals’ welfare, the veterinarians, the environment, and the regulatory authorities.

Pharmacovigilance

VETKO pharmacovigilance system ensures the safety, quality, and efficacy of its products for the animals, the animal owners and the environment. Our Pharmacovigilance system is also added value to ensure the quality of our products.

Vetko Pharmacovigilance system considers any available information arising from the use of the veterinary medicine by the farmers such as:

• Lack of expected efficacy to the veterinary product.

• Adverse reactions (serious or otherwise).

• Adverse reaction reports related to the off-label use.

• Potential environmental problems.

Our Qualified Person of Pharmacovigilance (QPPV) is auditing all our clients to ensure that the pharmacovigilance system in their companies is in place and working well.

Products

All VETKO products are manufactured in the EU and are subjected to various stringent quality check standards of the Dutch Authority by our quality department to ensure they are safe and effective before they are released by our qualified person (QP) to the market.

Product Range

VETKO manufactures and markets an extensive range of antibiotics, chemotherapeutics, anti-inflammatory, analgesic, antipyretic agents, anti-parasitic, vitamins and feed additives in the form of water-soluble powders, oral solutions, and premixes.
